PHASES OF COMPETITION INTRODUCTION

Outfit of Choice and Formal Wear include a modeling pattern. If you are staring at the stage from the audience perspective each contestant will enter from the left side and exit the left side.

- Outfit of Choice contestants will go to point 1 and stop to pose, then proceed to point 2 and pose, then point 3 to pose (This is where the standing microphone will be for Outfit of Choice). Then proceed to point 1 for the final time and exit.
- Formal Wear contestants will go to point 1 and stop to pose, then proceed to point 2 and pose, then point 3 to pose (This is where contestants will select questions to be asked from a bowl).

Awards will be presented at the end of the pageant once the scores are calculated. Contestants will remain in Formal Wear and be called on stage by age group for crowning. Awards include:

- Each contestant will receive a gift.
- One girl from each age group will receive the title, crown, and sash.
- After awards pictures will be taken.

Remember that this is supposed to be a fun experience for each girl and that this is their day to feel like a princess. Let us have good sportsmanship.

PHASES OF COMPETITION MINI MISS AND JUDGING BREAKDOWN

1. OUTFIT OF CHOICE is worth 20% of the total score and is the first phase of competition on the stage, contestants will introduce themselves on a microphone (their INTRODUCTION will be considered for 5% of the score). This shows personality and helps the judges get to know each contestant.

- Each contestant needs to wear an outfit that says something about them; favorite hobby, activity they enjoy doing with parents, what they want to be when they grow up, or just something fun they picked out.
- Props are welcome but not required, must be able to hold, and are not dangerous. Recommended poses complement overall look.
- Introduction should include name and age. What the outfit says about them or why they chose it. Recommended three to five sentences.

2. TALENT is worth the highest percentage at 40% of the total score. The winner will have several performance opportunities at future pageant and community events.

- Talent can be no longer than 120 seconds.
- Individualized costume or props are encouraged.
- A digital copy of music is to be emailed on or before April 10th, 2019 to Jlynnkelso5853@gmail.com

3. FORMAL WEAR is worth 25% of the total score. The winner is expected to look put together at community events and parades.

- Each contestant should wear a dress that represents them with modeling pattern and posing. Can be Sunday best to something worn at a parade.

4. ON STAGE INTERVIEW is worth 15% of overall score and occurs on the stage during Formal Wear in their dress. The winner has opportunities to talk on stage about her experience throughout the year and needs to be friendly and easy to talk to.

- Each contestant will answer 1 question pulled randomly from a bowl.
- There will be a standing microphone.

PAGEANT DAY- May 11th, 2019

- A pageant day schedule will be given at Dress Rehearsal

Each contestant must have one female hostess that will be responsible to help your daughter prepare for each wardrobe change and to be with your child at all times to and from the stage. We will not allow anyone other than the contestant and their hostess in the dressing room area. We would love for parents to be able to cheer on and watch your daughter perform so we suggest having someone other than a parent be your daughters hostess. If this isn't possible, that's fine. No men allowed.

On-Stage Question TIPS

-When answering an on stage question at a child pageant, the most important thing is showing your personality. You can show personality by how loud you project while talking, the enthusiasm in your voice, and most importantly, through your answer. The most important thing is to elaborate! Don't give one word answers, as this doesn't give the judges enough to get to know you. Keep talking about the subject for a couple sentences, or tell why you picked the answer you did.

- You might be asked some 'Tell me about...' questions. They will be asking you to tell them more about some of the answers you gave. For example:

"So, you have a pet dog. Can you tell me about him?"

-Practice, practice, and more practice. The more comfortable they are with the questions, the more likely they will have already answered the question they get. Make sure they speak loudly when practicing. When you practice, get your child talking more than one word answers without being prompted. Practice exactly how it will be on stage. Get them to stand properly, practice with a pretend microphone, etc. Practice in front of a group of family or friends, so they get used to an audience.

-Tell them to say the first thing in their head. Children often want to keep thinking of the 'best' answer. The answer doesn't have to be their absolute favorite, just say the first thing they think of that they like, or kids will spend a long time thinking.

-Make sure they stand in 'pretty feet' with no fidgeting! Practice how they're going to walk on stage and what they do after they're finished answering their question.
